Function. (Section 1) How do we know about cells? Before the invention of the microscope, people didn't know that living things were made of cells. Cells are too small to see with the naked eye. The microscope was invented in the 1600s. Important pioneer scientists Robert Hooke: In 1665 he used a microscope (advanced technology then!) to look at a piece of cork under the microscope. He saw that the cork was made of many tiny chambers, which he called "cells".
