This edited volume focuses on the impact of education among different social groups in different geographical areas of South Asia. The chapters illustrate the effects of formal education on castes ranging from Dalits to Brahmins, Buddhists, and Christians, even as they consider a range of topics such as the relevance of practical knowledge prior to formal teaching, the personal educational experiences of young women, missionary education, curriculum, and the challenges and benefits of Information Technology. The geographical areas range from Sri Lanka and Nepal to various Indian states, including Karnataka, Tamilnadu, Maharashtra, Odisha, and Rajasthan.

Capstone

Learn about what teenagers in Nepal do, how they live their lives, and how they interact with their surroundings.

The Economist Cook Communication International development efforts aimed at improving girls' lives and education have been well-intended, somewhat effective, but ultimately short-sighted and incomplete. This is because international development efforts often operate under a reductive understanding of the term 'gender' and how it influences the lives of girls and boys. Gender is more commonly conceived by international efforts as characteristics which are ascribed to girls as norms for behaviour. In particular, the analysis in Gender Trouble Makers focuses on the social constructions of gender and the ways in which gender was reinforced and maintained through a case study in rural Nepal. In developing countries like Nepal, promoting access to and participation in existing formal education programme is clearly necessary, but it is not, in itself, sufficient to transform gender power relations in the broader society. When gender is properly addressed as a process, then all stakeholders involved - researchers, governmental officials, and community members - can begin to understand and devise more effective ways to increase both girl and boy students' enrollment, participation, and success in school.

 The Routledge Handbook of South Asian Religions presents critical research, overviews, and case studies on religion in historical South Asia, in the seven nation states of contemporary South Asia: India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Nepal, Bhutan, Sri Lanka, and the Maldives, and in the South Asian diaspora. Chapters by an international set of experts analyse formative developments, roots, changes and transformations, religious practices and ideas, identities, relations, territorialisation, and globalisation in historical and contemporary South Asia. The Handbook is divided into two parts which first analyse historical South Asian religions and their developments and second contemporary South Asia religions that are influenced by both religious pluralism and their close connection to nation states and their ideological power. Contributors argue that religion has been used as a tool for creating nations as well as majorities within those nations in South Asia, despite their enormous diversity, in particular religious diversity. The Handbook explores these diversities and tensions, historical developments, and the present situation across religious traditions by utilising an array of approaches and from the point of view of various academic disciplines. Drawing together a remarkable collection of leading and emerging scholars, this handbook is an invaluable research tool and will be of interest to researchers and students in the fields of Asian religion, religion in context, and South Asian religions.

The Routledge Handbook of Indian Defence Policy brings together the most eminent scholarship in South Asia on India's defence policy and contemporary military history. It maps India's political and military profile in South Asia and the Indian Ocean region, and analyses its emergence as a global player. This edition of the handbook: Canvasses over 60 years of Indian defence policy, its relation to India's rising global economic profile, as well as foreign policy shifts; Discusses several key debates that have shaped defence strategies through the years: military doctrine and policy, internal and external security challenges, terrorism and insurgencies; Explores the origins of the modern armed forces in India; evolution of the army, navy and air forces; investments in professional military education, intelligence and net-centric warfare, reforms in paramilitary forces and the Indian police; Comments on India's contemporary strategic interests, focusing on the rise of China, nuclearisation of India and Pakistan's security establishments, and developments in space security and missile defence. Taking stock of India's defence planning architecture over the past decade, this accessibly written handbook will be an indispensable resource for scholars and researchers of security and defence studies, international relations and political science, as well as for government thinktanks and policymakers.

To promote culture based learner autonomy in school education of Nepal is inevitable at present. This study conveys a meaningful initiation of learner autonomy from the side of the professional teachers by exploring their perceptions and practices based on their living experiences with an aim to promote learner autonomy in school education of Nepal. It depicts the clear picture of teachers schooling, their learning culture, learning interest and its reflection in the real classroom context. It disseminates information regarding context based post method pedagogy and enables teachers to apply in the classroom scenario. Also, it can be a valuable souvenir to the readers as it incorporates the experiences of Nepalese teachers who belong to diverse caste, cultures, gender, geography, religion through the letter writing and poetic genres. This study is based on interpretive inquiry that presents the picture of teachers' perceptions on learner autonomy, their practices and its promotion in the real classroom context of school education. The scarcity of autonomy friendly facilities, and learning environment hinders the concept of learning culture: 'teach to learn and learn to teach'. Teaching by learning culture is a familiar schema in modern education system of Nepal. It relays on the professionalism of the teachers to promote autonomy friendly environment in school. Teachers self motivation, teaching learning culture, personal interest, their dedication and professionalism are considered crucial components to promote learner autonomy in Nepalese cultural context. This study facilitates the constructive practitioners who are dedicated to practice learner autonomy to their own cultural context and address learners needs. It provides context based teaching pedagogy to the innovative teachers. It requires the ability of the teachers to assimilate local cosmology with the global and apply learner friendly post method pedagogies to ensure learner autonomy. With the insights of the classroom practitioners and their lived experiences, it ventures the value of culture for autonomous learning.

Over the last decade, Nepal has witnessed significant urban growth and an expanding urban middle class. Glimpses of Hope tells the story of the people who enable some of the middle-class consumer practices in urban Nepal. The book focuses on workers in areas such as modern food-processing, water-bottling, housebuilding, and sand-mining industries and explores how workers see such forms of work, where union organization can help, and how work opportunities emerge along lines of gender and ethnicity. Although global labor relations have been mostly in decline for decades, this ethnography offers insights and glimpses of hope in terms of labor dynamics and the opportunities various jobs may afford.
