Who are these Guptas who are so powerful, they're distributing cabinet posts like matrons handing out condoms at a brothel? Who do Americans think they are, accusing Trevor Noah of 'stealing' a joke from one of their comedians? Is Sizakele MaKhumalo Zuma's spaza shop a National Key Point? In #ZuptasMustFall, and other rants, Fred Khumalo runs riot, contemplating the pressing issues that continue to confound, infuriate and exasperate the nation - or to sink it into further controversy. Covering a wide range of topics, including politics, history, current events and celebrity gossip, this compilation of recent and new writings contains Khumalo's trademark blend of humour and shrewd analysis, as well as his treatment of everyday issues from a uniquely South African perspective. This is an entertaining collection of thoughts from one of the country's most seasoned journalists, offering many questions, and tongue-in-cheek answers, on who we are as a nation, where we are going, and how we compare to the rest of the world.

I have always been fascinated by the story of the lion being the king of the jungle, and through the benefit of hindsight, the inspiration to do this mini secret of success book was as a result of the might and grace the grace of the lion. On May 19, 2014 few days to my birthday, I wrote an elaborate piece in my column for BUSINESS WORLD in my segment called Business world on His Highness UAE Vice President, Prime Minister and Ruler of Dubai His Highness Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum, titled: MAN BEHIND EMIRATE AIRLINE. Few days later, on my birthday, MAY 29TH 2014 I got a parcel as birthday present and in the neatly wrapped pack was a big book by the subject matter himself, Mohammed Bin Rashid Al Maktoum, the voluminous book titled: MY VISION, Challenges in the Race for Excellence. I love what I saw at the back of the book about the Lion and the gazelle as researched by the author.: "With each new day in Africa, a gazelle wakes up knowing he must outrun the fastest lion or perish. At the same time, a lion stirs and stretches, knowing he must outrun the fastest gazelle or starve. It is no different for the human race. Whether you consider yourself a gazelle or a lion, you simply have to run faster than others to survive. "In His Highness Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum viewpoint, life consist of a number of opportunities and greater opportunities do not come knocking on people doors. Whoever wants such opportunities must grab them when they arise, for his people and for himself. We have to be powerful, strong-willed, determined and willing to grasp such opportunities, so that we do not have to scavenge the leftovers of lions. Not long after my reading this story of lion and gazelle, I was in the gigantic Winners Chapel one Sunday and here was the anointed man of God, Bishop David Oyedepo telling his mammoth flock the need to think and start living like lion in the race for life rather than acting like cows. It is not a surprise that the narration and motivation of the story of lion as told by the Bishop can be said to be the true motivation behind this book in your hand today. However it must be noted that the writer has gone a step forward to talk about the much speculated worth of the man of God, what Forbes said he is worth and of course the book is further spiced with a rare never before seen type of quotes or inspirational sayings from the man, called to liberate his people from abject lack or one manner of illness or the other. I am confident that no matter your race, religion or age, this book can in one way or the other be of great motivation to you in your drive to either live like a lion or a gazelle-whether you call or see yourself as either of the animal, you simply have to RUN faster than others to survive CHIEF MIKE CERUTTI OSAGIE 2014 Financial Prosperity Xulon Press It seems extraordinary that Dr Richard Dawkins, who Dr Stephen Hawking implied was an imbecile, was apologising for Albert Einstein. I believe Dawkins was afflicted by delusional self-aggrandisement, which is a form of psychosis and part of the clinical manifestations of latent, progressive dementia. He was not fit to speak for a true genius like Einstein. Infallibility is brainless nonsense, as it exists only in the supernatural realm. Only an infallible being will describe another being as fallible. If Albert Einstein were a stately horse, Dr Richard Dawkins is an insect. Albert Einstein regards Sir Isaac Newton as near deity. Sir Isaac Newton was a devout, unorthodox Christian, and perhaps, the supreme science genius.

This book examines the contributions, both intentional and unintentional, of Nigerian Pentecostal churches and NGOs to development, studying their development practices broadly in relation to the intersecting spheres of politics, economics, health, education, human rights, and peacebuilding. In sub-Saharan Africa, Pentecostalism is fast becoming the dominant expression of Christianity, but while the growth and civic engagement of these churches has been well documented, their role in development has received less attention. The Nigerian Pentecostal landscape is one of the most vibrant in Africa. Churches are increasingly assuming more prominent roles as they seek to address the social and moral ills of contemporary society, often in fierce competition with Islam for dominance in

Nigerian public space. Some scholars suggest that the combination of an enchanted worldview, an emphasis on miracles and prosperity teaching, and a preoccupation with evangelism discourages effective political engagement and militates against development. However, Nigerian Pentecostalism and Development argues that there is an emerging movement within contemporary Nigerian Pentecostalism which is becoming increasingly active in development practices. This book goes on to explore the increasingly transnational approach that churches take, often seeking to build multicultural congregations around the globe, for instance in Britain and the United States. Nigerian Pentecostalism and Development: Spirit, Power, and Transformation will be of considerable interest to scholars and students concerned with the intersection between religion and development, and to development practitioners and policy-makers working in the region. The Patriology Createspace Independent Publishing Platform Pentecostalism is the fastest growing religious movement in the world, currently estimated to have at least 500 million adherents. In the movement's early years, most Pentecostal converts lived in relative poverty, yet the rapidly shifting social ecology of Pentecostal Christians includes many middle-class individuals, as well as an increasing number of young adults attracted by the music and vibrant worship of these churches. The stereotypical view of Pentecostals as "other-worldly" and disengaged from politics and social ministry is also being challenged, as Pentecostals-including many who are committed to working for social and political change-constitute growing minorities in many countries. Spirit and Power addresses three main questions: Where is Pentecostalism growing globally? Why it is growing? What is its social and political impact? The contributors to this volume include theologians, historians, and social scientists, who bring their diverse disciplinary perspectives to bear on these empirical questions. The essays draw on extensive survey research as well as in-depth ethnographic field methods, with analyses offering diverging and sometimes competing explanations for the growth and impact of Pentecostalism around the world.

For a long time, economic research on Africa was not seen as a profitable venture intellectually or professionally-few researchers in top-ranked institutions around the world chose to become experts in the field. This was understandable: the reputation of Africa-centered economic research was not enhanced by the well-known limitations of economic data across the continent. Moreover, development economics itself was not always fashionable, and the broader discipline of economics has had its ups and downs, and has been undergoing a major identity crisis because it failed to predict the Great Recession. Times have changed: many leading researchers-including a few Nobel laureates-have taken the subject of Africa and economics seriously enough to devote their expertise and creativity to it. They have been amply rewarded: the richness, complexities, and subtleties of African societies, civilizations, rationalities, and ways of living, have helped renew the humanities and the social sciences-and economics in particular-to the point that the continent has become the next major intellectual frontier to researchers from around the world. In collecting some of the most authoritative statements about the science of economics and its concepts in the African context, this handbook (the first of two volumes) opens up the diverse acuity of commentary on exciting topics, and in the process challenges and stimulates the quest for knowledge. Wide-ranging in its scope, themes, language, and approaches, this volume explores, examines, and assesses economic thinking on Africa, and Africa's contribution to the discipline. The editors bring a set of powerful resources to this endeavor, most notably a team of internationally-renowned economists whose diverse viewpoints are complemented by the perspectives of philosophers, political scientists, and anthropologists.

Since the unification of Southern and Northern Nigeria in 1914, the country has been rife with violence, poverty, inequity, and corruption. For decades it has barely functioned, and even now Nigerians face adversity in the absence of a pragmatic solution... The growth of Spirit-empowered Christianity has been nothing short of phenomenal. From a handful of believers in the early twentieth century to over six hundred million people in almost every culture and denomination today, those who embrace the Holy Spirit and His gifts are now the fastest-growing religious group in the world. But if any generation ceases to emphasize the Holy Spirit's power, the movement likely will lose its distinction. This third of four volumes is an authoritative collection from more than two dozen leaders and scholars of the Spirit-empowered movement in Africa. Focusing on the history and future of the movement, these world-renowned scholars address the theological and cultural challenges facing Pentecostals in Africa, and offer insights on how to meet them.
