Qur'an, the Fundamental Law of Human Life: Introduction to the study of Qur'an Bilal Muslim Mission of Tanzania

Il tema dell'immigrazione è da anni un tema centrale nel nostro dibattito pubblico, producendo una discussione polarizzata, spesso ideologica, ancor più spesso astratta e con caratteri fortemente emozionali. Nel frattempo le persone continuano a morire in mare, come se nessuno e nessuna istituzione europea sia in grado di proporre una qualsiasi soluzione. Da una parte si dice di chiudere i confini, ma poi le persone continuano ad arrivare nei modi più disparati, dall'altra si dice di accogliere ma senza predisporre le necessarie strutture e politiche di accoglienza. Visti dall'Italia, gli immigrati sono persone da respingere oppure da compatire, in ogni caso sono un "oggetto"

e mai un "soggetto". Questo libro vuole rovesciare la questione, proponendo il punto di vista di una persona immigrata, che da anni vive e lavora in Italia, impegnata nella promozione di una cultura di scambio e conoscenza reciproca come forma essenziale dell'avvicinamento tra le persone. Troverete i racconti dei migranti e le loro storie, le loro motivazioni e i pericoli che corrono sia nel rimanere in luoghi di provenienza ma anche quelli che corrono nell'incerta traversata del Mediterraneo. Troverete anche riflessioni sull'Occidente e le sue politiche viste "dall'altra parte", il ruolo spesso destabilizzante che esercita in intere aree del pianeta, quella mediorientale in primo luogo con al centro il dramma del popolo palestinese. Ma troverete anche una spiegazione della religione islamica, dei suoi valori e il suo essere una religione di pace non fomentatrice di odio e violenza come spesso viene descritta da politici interessati o mass media superficiali. È un libro duro, come è dura la vita dei migranti, ma capace di sfatare i tanti luoghi comuni e di proporre una possibile via di convivenza. Mohamed Hanout, egiziano di origine, vive e lavora in Italia da tanti anni. È stato operaio e imprenditore, ha collaborato con il Comune di Roma nelle politiche d'integrazione, ricercatore nel campo delle questioni riguardanti l'immigrazione ed è presidente dell'Associazione Internazionale degli Immigrati, è un giornalista affermato e scrittore, continua a impegnarsi nel promuovere pace e convivenza tra i popoli.

Siratun Nabi ...: Ethics in Islam Verlag Hans Schiler

Die Vorstellung vom Erlaubten und Verbotenen ist allen Völkern seit Urzeiten vertraut. Die Leute haben aber verschiedene Auffassungen über die Reichweite, die Unterschiede und die Gründe für Tabus und Verbote, von denen die meisten Ergebnisse ihrer primitiven Glaubensvorstellungen, ihres Aberglaubens und ihrer Mythen waren. Dann kamen die großen von Gott offenbarten Religionen mit ihren Gesetzen und Anweisungen über Erlaubtes und Verbotenes und erhöhten den Menschen von der Ebene des Aberglaubens, der Mythen und des Stammesdenkens auf die Ebene der Würde, die dem Menschen angemessen ist. Das Interesse der Leserschaft an Büchern über den Islam ist aus den verschiedensten Gründen gewachsen. Einerseits durch globale Ereignisse und deren Hintergründe oder allgemeines Interesse. Andererseits gewinnt der Islam immer mehr an Bedeutung im gesellschaftlichen Leben der Bürgerinnen und Bürger durch muslimische Kollegen, Freunde bzw. viele deutsche Bürger, die zum Islam konvertieren. Es ranken sich viele Gerüchte, teilweise durch ungenügendes Wissen um das Leben der Muslime. Wir möchten mit unserer Neuerscheinung dazu beitragen, verständnisfördernde Brücken zu schlagen. Viel wird erzählt über das Verbotene - arabisch: al-haram - im Islam. Weniger erfährt der Interessierte über das Erlaubte - arabisch: al-halal -. Genauso viele Fragen blieben bisher meistens offen, weil man die Zusammenhänge und das Warum nicht kannte. Mit dem Lesen dieses Buches werden eben diese Fragen auch beantwortet. Und der eine oder andere Leser wird erstaunt feststellen, dass ihm manches bekannt vorkommt, anderes ihm durchaus logisch erscheint.

Aquatic Environmental Bioengineering Discover the importance of remediation efforts for aquatic ecosystems Most contamination of water bodies stem from human activity, and the pollution in our water is one of the most important environmental concerns facing future generations. The most significant of these pollutants are halogenated organic compounds, petroleum hydrocarbons, radionuclides, metal and metalloids, pharmaceutical drugs, microbial toxins, and flame retardants. With such a vast array of potential contaminants and dangerously cumulating contamination levels in fragile marine environments, reparative action is more essential than ever. Aquatic Environmental Bioengineering: Monitoring and Remediation of Contamination provides the reader with a map towards environmentally safe and economically feasible technologies to intervene in polluted aquatic ecosystems. The authors suggest a phased approach consisting of site classification and risk assessment, followed by remediation technology selection and implementation. Effective methods for surveying bodies of water are particularly emphasized, and advancements in the development of novel transgenic plants and microbial fuel cells are put forward as effective tools against environmental contamination and industrial wastewater pollution. Readers will also find: A focus on the most recent and cutting-edge research on the topic: photocatalysis, the use of genetically modified organisms, and the use of nanomaterials A simple compendium of fundamental concepts in environmental engineering of aquatic ecosystems A detailed discussion of the advancement in remote sensing and geographic information (GIS), methodologies that make it possible to conduct large-scale water remediation studies at reasonable cost The ideal resource for researchers and students of environmental science, plant biotechnology, agricultural science, environmental engineering, and plant sciences, Aquatic Environmental Bioengineering will be a crucial resource for the remediation of contaminants in our aquatic ecosystems.

Der Koran, die Hauptquelle des Islamischen Glaubens, ist ein Buch von, wie Muslime glauben, vollständig göttlicher Herkunft. Muslime glauben auch, dass es eine Leitung für alle Menschen beinhaltet. Da gesagt wird, die Botschaft des Koran sei für alle Zeiten, sollte sie folglich für alle Zeitalter relevant sein. Besteht der Koran diesen Test?

Appearing for the first time in English translation, In Freedom's Shade is Anis Kidwai's moving personal memoir of the first two years of nascent India. It is an activist's record that reveals both the architecture of the violence during Partition as well as the efforts of ordinary citizens to bring the cycle of reprisal and retribution to a close. Beginning from the murder of her husband in October 1947, with a rare frankness, sympathy and depth of insight, Anis Kidwai tells the stories of the thousands who were driven away from their homelands in Delhi and its neighbouring areas by eviction or abduction or the threat of forced religious conversion. Of historical importance for its account of the activities of the Shanti Dal, the recovery of abducted women and the history of Delhi, In Freedom's Shade also has an equal contemporary relevance. In part a delineation of the roots of the afflictions that beset Indian society and in part prophetic about the plagues that were to come, Anis Kidwai's testament is an enduring reminder that memory without truth is futile; only when it serves the objective of reconciliation, does it achieve meaning and significance.

BLURB 'Kayinath', meaning 'Universe' a collection of excellent Urdu poetry written by Professor Ghulam Hussain Daleel, is based on Sufism, which believes in the philosophy of 'Unity of Creations' and this expounds that there cannot be any difference between one group of mankind and another. The criterion that should govern the relationship among human beings is 'love' and there should be no place for any hatred or discrimination. This book authored by his daughter, Ms. Razia Begum Abdul Azeez, is a translation and exhaustive commentary on 'Kayinath'. It was written to decipher the intellectually rich and spiritually pristine piece of her father's magnum opus, into comprehensible message for the benefit of humanity. This book has deep rooted Sufi Philosophy and Islamic Spiritualism which the erudite author Ms. Razia Begum has prudently thrown light on, citing relevant reference from the Holy Quran and sayings of Prophet Mohammed (peace be upon him).
