of Lewis and Ann Jones of Roxbury, Mass: Through Their Son Josiah and Grandson James; Compiled for the Family No attempt has been made to eulogize in the genealogy before us. It may be considered by Some, perhaps, that there is too much leannes's attending our recitals. In reply, we might say, that the family, in general, as we know them, are practical people. They are men, and women of acts and deeds, not of mere sentiment or profession. They have furnished respected officers in the church, and patriotic'soldiers and citizens in the state. Some have been worthy commanders in the military companies of their respective towns. They have produced good husbands, housewives, sons and daughters. About the Publisher Forgotten Books

Francis Lyford was first located on record in the city of Boston as a mariner in the year 1667. He married twice and lived in the Colony of Massachusetts until his move to Exeter, New Hampshire ca. 1683. Francis had ten children and died ca. 1724 in New Hampshire. Descendants lived in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine, Virginia, Vermont and elsewhere. William Lewis of Stoke-by-

Nayland, England Family history and genealogical information about the ancestors and descendants of William Browning Greene and Mary Hoxsie Lewis. William was born 28 February 1803 in Charlestown or South Kingstown, Rhode Island. He was the son of Browning Green (born ca. 1770 in Rhode Island) and Dinah Kenyon. Mary was born 28 November 1810. She was the illegitimate daughter of John Segar and Penelope Lewis. William and Mary lived in Charlestown, Rhode Island and were the parents of three sons and four daughters. Ancestors lived in Rhode Island and New York. Descendants lived primarily in New York. Genealogy of the Lewis Family in America This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important,

The Family Lineage of Reverend William Lewis (Bucky) Hunt and Descendants of South Carolina and Tennessee provides a lineage of William L. (Bucky) Hunt who was born between 1780 and 1797, down through history to more modern-day descendants who were born as recently as the 1900's and living predominately in Monroe County, Tennessee. This book provides at least six (6) generations of direct descendants and their spouses. If you are a serious or hobby genealogist, and researching the Hunt lineage, this book could provide you some lineage data and vital statistics information you have been seeking to link your family or surname to this line of Hunts. THIS BOOK IS A MUST HAVE IN YOUR GENEALOGY COLLECTION! The family lineage published here are compilations of years of transcriptions from multiple resources, personal family interviews, ancestor's compilations, county history books, online and Internet genealogy groups, and other library database or book resources. The author spent over 20 years compiling the information in this publication for this specific family surname, as well as hundreds of other surnames that interlinked and intertwined to the author's own family and ancestry surnames. Do enjoy the fruits of the research to expand the reader's knowledge of this family surname. As noted on the copyright page, any errors may result from human transcription mistakes, original data having errors or omissions, or even some 'software burps' or data entry errors (e.g., a husband may have been entered as a spouse twice, thus shows up as a duplicate). The author suggests that genealogy researchers take the information in this book and use it as a 'with a grain of salt' baseline to further research on their own to confirm all the data in this publication against their own. Our Story, the Family of William and Mary Lewis

 This ambitious
 work
 chronicles 250
 years of the Cromartie
 family genealogical history.

Included in the index of nearly fifty thousand names are the current
 generations,
 and all of those preceding,
 which trace
 ancestry to our family
 patriarch, William
 Cromartie,
 who was born in 1731 in
 Orkney, Scotland, and his second
 wife, Ruhamah Doane, who was born in 1745. Arriving in America in 1758, William
 Cromartie
 settled and developed a plantation on

South River, a tributary of the Cape Fear near Wilmington, North Carolina. On April 2, 1766, William married Ruhamah Doane, a fifth-generation descendant of a Mayflower passenger to Plymouth, Stephen Hopkins. If Cromartie is your last name or that of one of your blood relatives, it is almost certain that you can trace your ancestry to one of the thirteen children of William Cromartie, his first wife, and Ruhamah Doane, who became the founding ancestors of our Cromartie family in America: William Jr., James, Thankful, Elizabeth, Hannah, Alexander, John, Margaret, Nancy, Mary, Catherine, Jean, Peter, Patrick, and Ann E. Cromartie. These four volumes hold an account of the descent of each of these first-generation Cromarties in America, including personal anecdotes, photographs, copies of family bibles, wills, and other historical documents. Their pages hold a personal record of our ancestors and where you belong in the Cromartie family tree.
