Narrating Oneself in Verse McGill-Queen's Press - MQUP

This book, based on authoritative sources and reports, links environmental communication to different fields of competence: environment, sustainability, journalism, mass media, architecture, design, art, green and circular economy, public administration, big event management and legal language. The manual offers a new, scientifically based perspective, and adopts a theoretical-practical approach, providing readers with qualified best practices, case studies and 22 exclusive interviews with professionals. A fluent style of writing leads the readers through specific details, enriching their knowledge without being boring. As such it is an excellent preparatory and interdisciplinary academic tool intended for university students, scholars, professionals, and anyone who would like to know more on the matter. Giuseppe Ungaretti Studia Rapido The most comprehensive English translation of the work of

Giuseppe Ungaretti (1888 - 1970,) the leading representative of the experimental literary movement called Hermeticism, or Hermetic poetry. This edition includes poems from all of his major collections: "Porto Sepolto (1916,) "L'allegria di naufragi" (1919),"L'allegria" (1931,) "Sentimento del tempo" (1933,) and "Il dolore," (1947.)	Giuseppe Ungaretti, the Master of Hermeticism, Translated In English Routledge In the 1930s, the Italian Fascist regime profoundly changed the landscape of Rome's historic centre, demolishing buildings and displacing thousands of Romans in order to display the ruins of the pre-Christian Roman Empire. This transformation is commonly interpreted as a failed attempt to harmonize urban planning with	Fascism's ideological exaltation of the Roman Empire. Roads and Ruins argues that the chaotic Fascist cityscape, filled with traffic and crumbling ruins, was in fact a reflection of the landscape of the First World War. In the radical interwar transformation of Roman space, Paul Baxa finds the embodiment of the Fascist exaltation of speed and destruction, with both roads and ruins defining the cultural impulses at the heart of the movement. Drawing on a wide variety of sources, including war diaries, memoirs, paintings, films, and government archives, Roads and Ruins is a richly textured study that offers an original perspective on a well known story.

introductions to European literature and culture. Twentieth-century Italy was marked by a profound and often convulsive transformation in both society and culture, accompanied at various stages by war, violence and dictatorship. This was Italy's 'difficult' entry into modernity. The voices of Italian literature responded to this transformation with a bewildering combination of excitement and anxiety, from the loud embrace of the new in Futurism to melancholy laments for tradition. In the process, some of the greatest works of modern literature were created. Robert Gordon offers a vivid overview of the century's literature, charting a series of motifs of Italy's 'difficult modernity' - from war to the city, from language to geography, from marginal groups to avant-garde movements - through a wide array of writers and texts.

A Difficult Modernity

Vita e Pensiero 1916: tre bambine brutalmente assassinate, l'esercito Austriaco che scatena la Strafexpedition. Su un'Altopiano di Asiago cupo e tinto di sangue, il capitano dei Reali Carabinieri cerca di risolvere questo difficile caso, ma la brutale tragedia della guerra diventa un po' alla volta protagonista della vicenda relegando in secondo piano l'indagine poliziesca. Il capitano Martini viene suo malgrado travolto dagli eventi ma anche a rischio della propria vita cercherà con tutte le sue forze di trovare il suo assassino.

This volume brings together papers presented at the 7th Annual International Conference co-organised by Florence University of the Arts, Italy, and Stony Brook University (SUNY), USA. The contributors explored the many connections that define the Mediterranean Sea as a symbol of tradition and modernity, and examined it as a region capable of congregating, synergizing and transforming cultures. Their writings focus on the relationship between the cultural, social, and historical environment of Mare Nostrum to pinpoint the elements defining its identity. Hence, particular emphasis is placed on the role and relevance of the Mediterranean as the first beacon of multi-ethnicity which may be seen as a symbol of diversity and unity, as well as a model that holds clues to understanding the global merging of cultures. As such, it is a real shame to see that the general interest in this unique and fascinating area has arisen not thanks to such highly positive features, but because, as Pope Francis says, it has become an open-air cemetery where thousands of people keep drowning. The multifaceted approach to this topic has resulted in the book being divided into four sections, covering the following thematic areas: Literature, History, Culture, and Identity. A.U.M.L.A. Bristol Classical Press In The Fascist Effect, Reto Hofmann uncovers the ideological links that tied Japan to Italy, drawing on extensive materials from Japanese and Italian archives to shed light on the formation of fascist history and practice in Japan and beyond. Moving between personal experiences, diplomatic and cultural relations, and geopolitical considerations, Hofmann shows that interwar Japan found in fascism a resource to develop a new order at a time of capitalist crisis. Hofmann demonstrates that fascism in Japan was neither a European import nor a domestic product; it was, rather, the result of a complex process of global transmission and reformulation. Far from being a vague term, as postwar historiography has so often claimed, for Japanese of all backgrounds who came of age from the 1920s to the 1940s, fascism conjured up a set of concrete associations, including nationalism, leadership, economics, and a drive toward empire and a new world order.

It includes analytical essays on	authors and works, from the most important figures of Italian literature to little known authors and works that are influential to the field. The Encyclopedia is distinguished by substantial articles on critics, themes, genres, schools, historical surveys, and other topics related to the overall subject of Italian literary studies. The Encyclopedia also includes writers and subjects of contemporary interest, such as those relating to journalism, film, media, children's literature, food and vernacular literatures. Entries consist of an essay on the topic and a bibliographic portion listing works for further reading, and, in the case of entries on individuals, a brief biographical paragraph and list of works by the person. It will be useful to people without specialized knowledge of Italian literature as well as to scholars.

Luoghi in costruzione è. un testo "valigia" dove trovare un bagaglio di racconti e riflessioni su processi locali, società contemporane a, metodologie ponte, paradigmi, senso di cittadinanza e patti territoriali, capace di alimentare scenari e aiutare la scuola e i suoi territori a trovare gli ingredienti per fare comunità. Al centro del testo c'è la relazione tra scuola e territorio dato che le lunghe stagioni dei dibattiti a difesa del sistema integrato non hanno, di fatto, sciolto i nodi; c'è ancora la scuola con la sua solitudine, le sue ferite, i suoi tentativi di relazione e le sue potenzialità di azione. The Poetry of the Americas

L'AGE
D'HOMME
In Italy, an elderly mother awaits a reunion with the son stolen from her by the Nazis—"A darkly hypnotic kaleidoscope of a book" (The Jewish Daily Forward). Haya Tedeschi sits alone in Gorizia, in northeastern Italy, surrounded by a basket of photographs and newspaper clippings. Now an old woman, she waits to be reunited after sixty-two years with her son, fathered by an SS officer and stolen from her by the German authorities as part of Himmler's clandestine Lebensborn project. Tedeschi reflects on her Catholicized Jewish family's experiences, in a narrative that deals unsparingly with the massacre of Italian Jews in the concentration camps of Trieste. Her obsessive search for her son leads her to photographs, maps, and fragments of verse, to testimonies from the Nuremberg trials and interviews with second-generation Jews, and to eyewitness accounts of atrocities that took place on her doorstep. From this broad collage of material and memory arises the staggering chronicle of Nazi occupation in northern Italy that "explores the 20th century's darkest chapter in an original way . . . an exceptional reading experience" (Minneapolis Star-Tribune). Autobiographical Poetry

dell'esistenza: l'umanissima nevrosi di Saba, la poesia come salvezza di Montale, la reticenza e la volontà di dialogo di Sereni, la disperata voracità di Pasolini, l'alta eloquenza di Zanzotto. Attraverso una scrittura densa e asciutta, sostenuta da una risoluta finalità didattica, trapela, come scrive Pier Vincenzo Mengaldo nel saggio introduttivo, «una concezione di	tipo religioso del poeta come testimone e martire», e della poesia come «opposizione, alternativa e utopia». È possibile, conclude lo stesso Fortini congedando la sua antologia, «che la proposta di esistenza che la poesia lirica del Novecento ha formulata sia oscurata da altre forme letterarie e da altri modi di essere e di voler essere». E tuttavia a quella poesia resta il merito di aver anticipato,	interpretato, o addirittura dettato, con una straordinaria forza di disperazione e tensione, «qualcosa di decisivo per il significato di questo presente». 2011 Cornell University Press This study explores the tensions and contradictions in the themes and style of L'Allegria. affinity with the work of De Chirico, Cubism, Futurism and Surrealism. Offering ground- breaking views, particularly on the war	poems, it demonstrates how Ungaretti used the obscure nature of Hermetic language to express his proto-Fascist and	Nietzschean sympathies, thus destroying the myth of Ungaretti as a 'man of peace' searching for a religious answer to the problems of existence.
