From across the country and around the world, over 30 couples have opened the doors of their lives. Go behind the scenes with us to meet real people with real stories. The messy parts aren't sanitized. The joys aren't minimized. You might see them broken, bruised and yet abundantly blessed. As each page of their story is turned, you will be sure to ask how some could find hope in the middle of their circumstances. Yet, the joy they each found in their marriage will grip you. Intricately threaded through their lives is the real author of their story, Jesus. Come with us to discover how each marriage was touched with His fingerprints of hope.

What would happen if comedy were combined with growing deeper in your faith? You would have a fun devotional for learning more about God. One of America's top comedians brings his unique style to an unlikely venue—a devotional? Laugh out loud with Rich Praytor as he looks at the humorous side of everyday aspects of life, such as marriage, money or work while discovering something about God and His plan for us. Made up of 31 chapters (representing a full month), A Stand-Up Comic Sits Down with Jesus starts each entry with a clean, funny joke followed by a Scripture reference and some thoughts on that particular subject. Just try to keep a straight face when reading Keeping a Journal, Being Too Churchy, Honoring Your Parents and Marriage II. This is a devotional like no other! Author also includes two “intermission” chapters of personal reflection.

Thoughts While Waiting in the Doctor's Office Sourcebooks

Finding the humor in life is a skill honed and presented by Shirley Nicholson in Thoughts While Waiting in the Doctor's Office. In this collection of thirty-six essays and memoirs, Nicholson entertains by capturing the funny events in her life and through her observations. From puberty to dating, from marriage to honeymoons, from housework to pets, Nicholson writes about these events with warmth. She pokes fun of her tooth fairy stint, her klutziness, and her parenting skills. In “I Was a Teenage Car Thief!”, she tells the story of inadvertently becoming a car thief when a salesman at her father's store gave her his car keys and permission to drive the car. She retrieved the vehicle from the location where she thought the salesman said he parked his car, drove it around town, and later returned it to the store's back lot. When the salesman left for the day, he returned and announced that the car parked in the back lot wasn't his. Without realizing it, Nicholson had stolen a car. Laugh along with Thoughts

While Waiting in the Doctor's Office as Nicholson reveals the day-to-day wit in her comic strip of life.

On the night of the wedding, Shen Liuxiang, who had been tied to the emperor's carriage, knocked him down and fled from the palace with a pat of her hands. Aren't you afraid of being caught? Afraid? Not afraid? Who cares? Who told Li Yu to deceive him first? So what if the Emperor? The Emperor still ignored you. The world outside the palace was indeed huge. There were indeed a lot of Handsome Men, and immediately, a top grade Handsome Man came over. Shrimp, we already have an owner. What should we do? Give up? However, the Handsome Man seemed to be interested in her, so she should at least lure him over, or at least let the scammer emperor know that she, Shen Liu Xiang, was not a person that was not wanted by others.

We have all been conditioned to live life in a strangely serious manner while Arjun Kapoor has developed a sense of sight wherein he finds humor in every tiny fragment of the absurd world he is living in. While others around him are crazy about money, their careers and the conventional diplomatic ways of the society, he is on the quest for a true meaning in life. Will his world ever change from stupidly funny to sanely sensible? Will he ever be able to get himself freed of the pain he has been going through for so many years? Will he ever find a liberating truth? Will he survive with his straightforward ways in a world full of people having no sense of righteousness? The Psychologist Savas Beatie

The first rule about a casual hookup is to have an exit plan. No strings. No attachments. Get in, get out-euphemism intended. The lesser known second rule? Make sure your casual hookup isn't about to become your wedding planner. Yeah. Long story. The wedding was going to be a fake. The only catch was nobody could know. Not even my wedding planner. Now the wedding planner thinks I'm the world's biggest bastard. She thinks I'm in love with the woman I'm supposed to marry. She thinks a lot of things, but she doesn't know the truth. She's got no idea she's going to fall for me by the time this thing is over. She's got no idea our little hookup wasn't meaningless. Not to me, at least. And worst? She thinks she's safe around me. She thinks I'm off the market, that there can't be a repeat because there's someone else. There's nobody else. Just her. And ever since the first taste, I knew she was all there'd ever be. Author's Note: Don't run away from the ultimate playboy. He's ready to fake marry you so hard. She's sweet and sassy, he's over the top in everything. They're a match made in fake marriage history. Relationship, Love and Marriage Jokes Book Graphic Communications Group

For every happily-ever-after fairy tale that waxes poetic about true love, there is a piece of flash fiction from Dan Rhodes to provide the perfect antidote. In this collection of bite-sized vignettes, Rhodes masterfully explores the distance between what we believe is real and what others know to be true—and nowhere is this distance greater than in the realm of romance. Told with inimitable humor, with, and irony, as well as deep understanding and compassion, these short stories are guaranteed to elicit both yelps of laughter and wincing of recognition. All offer the gift of humor, though none are a paean to the institution of marriage. By turns poignant, surprising, and laugh-out-loud funny, Dan Rhodes has created a fresh and recognizable cast of scorned lovers, jilted fiancées, and vengeful spouses who wholeheartedly subscribe to the adage that "all is fair in love and war."
