Classical Guitar Making: A Modern Approach to Traditional ... Contemporary classical guitar making The basis of most modern classical guitar designs was developed by Spanish luthier Antonio Torres Jurado in the mid-19th century. Earlier guitars were often smaller bodied (though there are exceptions: Scherzer, Guadagnini, etc.). Torres created a Spanish design, with light materials supported by fan bracing. Classical guitar making - Wikipedia The classical guitar (also known as the classic guitar, nylon-string guitar or Spanish guitar) is a member of the guitar family used in classical music. An acoustic wooden string instrument with strings made of gut or nylon, it is a precursor of the modern acoustic and electric guitars, both of which use metal strings. Classical guitars are derived from the Spanish vihuela and gittern in the ... Classical guitar - Wikipedia John S. Classical Guitar Making: A Modern Approach to Traditional ...The parts for our modern classical guitar kit are made especially for us by one of Spain's leading guitar manufacturers. We produce two versions called deluxe and standard. The Deluxe Classical Guitar has rosewood laminated ribs and back, solid cedar soundboard with inset wooden rose, mahogany neck with truss rod, rosewood fingerboard and bridge, and gold plated machine heads. Classical Guitar & Classical Guitar Kit Covers aspects of traditional (and modern) classical guitar construction in excellent detail. Of course there was some head scratching every now and then, but building a Hauser style classical is not a cakewalk. The author's available jigs and quick email response (how uncommon is this!) minimize woodworking "risks." Making a Concert Classical Guitar | stewmac.com The Modern Concert Guitar By the 1950's, thanks in large part to Andres Segovia, the classical guitar had made its way into the concert hall. This really marked the beginning of the separation between the classical and the flamenco guitar, the latter evolving very little over the next 50 years to the present.
