Workers, Managers, and Technological Change: Emerging Patterns of Labor Relations contributes significantly to an important subject. Technological change is one of the most powerful forces transforming the American industrial relations. In fact, the synergistic relationships between technology and industrial relations are so complex that they are not well or completely understood. We know that the impact of technology, while not independent of social forces, already has been profound: it has transformed occupations, creating new skills and destroying others; altered the power relationships between workers and managers; and changed the way workers learn and work. Technology also has made it possible to decentralize some economic activities out of large metropolitan areas and into small towns, rural areas, and other countries. Most important, information technology makes it possible for international corporations to operate on a global basis. Indeed, some international corporations, especially those based in the United States, are losing their national identities, detaching the welfare of corporations from that of particular workers and communities. Internationalization, facilitated by information technology, has transformed industrial relations systems. A major objective of the traditional American industrial relations system was to take labor out of competition.

Diese Entwicklung basiert in erheblichem Maße auf technologischen und organisatorischen Neuerungen bei der Nutzung digitaler und multimedialer Produkte und Dienstleistungen in allen Sektoren. Dazu gehören neben den Anwendungen in der Wirtschaft gerade die auf die Bildung bezogenen Dienste und Infrastrukturen. Verbunden mit der rapiden Verbreitung der Informations- und Kommunikationstechnologien sind Erwartungen hinsichtlich ihrer besonderen Möglichkeiten für den Austausch von Informationen, die Wissensvermittlung und das Lehren und Lernen. Der Sammelband thematisiert aktuelle Entwicklungen auf diesen Ebenen in systematischer Weise und gliedert sich in die drei Kapitel «eLearning», «Multimedia» und «Innovative Applikationen & Mobile Media». Ein besonderer Schwerpunkt liegt dabei auf der regionalen Bezugnahme zu Brandenburg und Berlin.
