HUNTER LILIA

Deadly Vow (Book 3) A. Hayat

The third book in the New York Times bestselling Cursebreaker series: a contemporary feminist fantasy perfect for fans of Sarah J Maas. KINGDOMS WILL CLASH. CHOOSE YOUR SIDE. Grey has been revealed as the rightful prince of Emberfall. But the kingdom is crumbling fast, torn between his claim and that of the reigning Prince Rhen and Princess Harper. Newly crowned as Queen of the enemy kingdom Syhl Shallow, Lia Mara struggles to rule with a gentler hand than her mother. But as Grey moves closer to claiming the crown of Emberfall, both Harper and Lia Mara are forced to question where they stand – and how far they can follow the dictates of their hearts. Brigid Kemmerer's heart-pounding saga comes to a thrilling climax, as two kingdoms come closer and closer to conflict – and an old enemy resurfaces who could destroy them all. For more fantasy romance, don't miss Brigid Kemmerer's heart-stopping Defy the Night series.

This is book 1 of the Lethal Darkness MC trilogy. Books 2 and 3 are available everywhere now! I accidentally knocked up my enemy's daughter. MICAH When Paris shows up at my doorstep, begging for a man, I don't even think about saying no. I f**k her until she cries out in ecstasy. I had no idea that I'd just screwed the daughter of my greatest enemy. Her father comes knocking four months later... And demands that I marry his now-pregnant daughter. The man could destroy everything I've worked my whole life to build. I have to decide: do I want war or a wife? There is no choice but to agree to his ultimatum. Now, I have a crucial weakness. And Paris's father is determined to end me for good. I find out just how far he's willing to go when he threatens his own grandchild. Big mistake. I didn't ask for a family. But now that I have one, I'll go to hell and back to protect them. So if her father wants a vicious war, then that's exactly what he'll get. PARIS My whole life, I've been a princess in an ivory tower, not allowed even to look at a man. I couldn't take it anymore. So I snuck out to have a taste of forbidden passion. I never dreamed it would leave me pregnant. Now, my father is making me marry the man who did this to me. I never thought I'd see Micah again... Especially not like this. That strong jaw, those inked muscles, that steely, unflinching gaze... Standing on the altar across from me. Lifting my veil. And claiming me as HIS. I tell myself I didn't want this. That I never wanted a man like Micah for more than one night. But when my life is threatened—along with the life of my unborn baby—I know one thing: Trusting Micah is the only way I can survive.

In life or death, sometimes the actions toward another person are not forgotten. The invasions of another person's mind set can cause the viewer to take a step back, sit up and imagine that the enemy does not see what is coming. They are in the inner part of the enemy head to feel the pain and not mix it up. In a new line up of horror stories, Mr. Marsh takes us to the existence that there is more to life and death that we already know. Marsh focuses hard on showing us the different views of how pain and a doormat person can live inside us all and not realizing it until it is too late. Marsh's mind set is so strong on the death of him, that he sheds a dark light just to allow us to read a little concerning the demons inside us all. The style he shows is very conversational and straight forward in his own dark ways. A book inside a book, The Deadly Vows is the mindset of Mr. Marsh. The Deadly Vows is powerful and offers us to see the evil we care not to see. The question after reading this book is, Is it safe to go out again, knowing that there are people that are out there with his mindset. The Deadly Vows is a dark and painful raw emotions book to read and it bares a spectrum of themes to comprehend.

Psychic Cree Blue is working on a cold case where the motives and suspects multiply like the spices in her cooking. When Davina Richards went missing the day before her wedding, people assumed she was a runaway bride. Only Cree knows differently. This bride skipped being a missing person and landed smack-dab in the dead zone. One thing is certain; the ghostly apparition is out to set the record straight and needs Cree's help. Chock full of more guarded mystery than the Colonel's secret recipe, the case of the deadly vows is Cree's toughest cold case yet. She'll have to rely on more than her intuition and insight if she wants to solve this mystery. It's no longer a question of who wanted to silence the bride; it's a matter of which one pulled the trigger.

Evil comes in all forms. Sometimes it wears a human mask. When the body of a newlywed is discovered on the reservation, Lizzie Grace throws herself into the investigation, needing a distraction from what she knows is coming not only for her but also for Belle, her best friend and witch familiar. But as the body count grows and a desperate race begins to track down a supernatural entity capable of powerful magic, it becomes evident another deadly game has begun—one they may not win. Because the past—and the man—they ran from thirteen years ago has finally caught up with them. And he's out for revenge... PART 1 OF A TRILOGY Beauty and the Beast. Everyone knows how that fairytale goes, right? How an egotistical motherfucker gets trapped into a spell by a wicked witch, because he looked down upon her, judging her by how she looked before even knowing her. Then having to break that spell, by having a woman fall in love with him in his monster form. Except, I'm no fairytale prince. We all know that all the happily ever after's from the movies are bullshit. Happily ever after's don't exist. Especially for a motherfucker like me. A man who's done so much wrong, seen things he shouldn't have seen. Watched men and women get tortured, murdered, be ripped away from their goddamn families. My name is Luca Costello. I grew up in the toughest streets of South Manchester, you know, the area stretching from Hulme to Moss Side up until Longsight. I know there's that fucking cliché that everybody spits out from around here. "I didn't choose this life, this life chose me." "Kill or be killed, eat or be eaten." Except, I didn't choose this life. Growing up, I was forced into this way of living. Postcode wars, Turf wars, competing for territory, gunning down any bastard who got in the way of business... It was all I knew. And it was all I was ever going to know. You can't just leave the streets behind. Once you're in, there's no way out. Your past follows you wherever you fucking go. You don't know how many enemies you've made. You don't know whether the person staring at you from across the street is a stranger, or someone connected to somebody that you've crossed in the past. I wanted better for myself. Heck, I needed better. And I knew from the minute I met Zara Amelle, my life was going to turn upside down. She was sexy, bold, confident. A woman who knew what she fucking wanted. Too innocent for my world. But that didn't stop me. I should have left her alone. I should have left her to live her life. Live her life without me. But she was like a fucking drug. Once I got one taste of her, I kept going back for more. Even if it killed us. They say if you keep dancing with the devil you'll get burned. I'd been destined for hell my whole damn life. Living a life of sin, hurting so many people who didn't deserve to be hurt. Except she was the opposite of me. She was like an angel. Who was going to save her from me? This is my story. She was the Beauty... And I was the Beast. Nacht der Angst HQN Books This is book 2 of the Lethal Darkness MC trilogy. In October 2007, twenty-three-year-old Stacy Peterson vanished from the Chicago suburb of Bolingbrook, leaving behind her husband and children. Retired Police Sergeant Drew Peterson, thirty years Stacy's senior, steadfastly asserted his innocence and maintained that his wife had simply fled their tumultuous marriage and run off with another man. Throngs of journalists and camera crews besieged Peterson's quiet suburban cul-de-sac, but the ex-cop seemed to relish in this newfound limelight. As exhaustive searches for Stacy's body turned up nothing and suggestive clues led nowhere, questions were raised: about their unusual marriage, about Stacy's past vocal concerns for her safety, and about Drew Peterson's bizarre public behavior in the wake of Stacy's disappearance. Then, in February 2008, came a startling development. After a second autopsy, the unusual death of Peterson's third wife, Kathleen Savio, was ruled a homicide. Three and a half years earlier, Savio had been found dead in the bathtub of their home, but in light of Stacy's curious disappearance, Kathleen's body was exhumed and the case was reopened. Two of Drew Peterson's four wives, it appeared, had met untimely fates—tragic and unexpected but hardly coincidental. Drawing upon exclusive interviews with Stacy's friends and family and even Drew himself, Chicago-area reporter Joseph Hoseny presents the most researched account of the Stacy Peterson case yet. Still, as the charges against Drew Peterson mount, one haunting question remains: Where on earth is Stacy?

On the surface, the town of Rockport, Illinois, is a quiet, medium-sized community. But the year before, the citizens had been terrorized by a series of grisly murders that continued unabated for months. Eventually, the killers were apprehended, and the people settled back to their normal existence. But when several young women are brutally murdered and mutilated, it seems that yet another killer (or killers) has taken up where the others left off. Once again, the police department and the district attorney must try to apprehend the murderer before he can claim any more lives.

Hayat This book has an important message that I know the world has heard before but it's here again. That message is help me there's no one else here for me or that understand me the way people do. In this book I speak of a backward method which hits a high point in my life. I did things my way and still survived. I also speak of my scars and burns and wounded scars that some may not like or understand. The story "Close Hearts" is maybe my number six best because it shows the hatred of many people in the world we live in today. "Silence Please" and "Understand Me" both are stories about the odds I will have to face in a world that bets against me. Both stories show me on stage with my back up against the wall and writing is my only way out.
