This paper reports narrowband and wideband results derived by propagation modeling at 60 GHz for indoor WLAN applications. A multi-ray model is proposed and verified through a simulation process. Indoor Channel Modeling At 60 Ghz For Wireless Lan ... CiteSeerX - Document Details (Isaac Council, Lee Giles, Pradeep Teregowda): This paper reports narrowband and wideband results derived by propagation modeling at 60 GHz for indoor WLAN applications. A multi-ray model is proposed and verified through a simulation process. The propagation in the site-specific environment can be described using 4-5 rays without reducing the accuracy of the results. CiteSeerX — Indoor Channel Modeling At 60 Ghz For Wireless ... In this paper, 60-GHz mmWave channel measurements and modeling are carried out for indoor office environments. The rotated directional antenna-based method and uniform virtual array-based method are adopted and compared to investigate the 60-GHz channel in a 3-D space, simultaneously covering azimuth and coelevation domains. 60-GHz Millimeter-Wave Channel Measurements and Modeling ...
