Here we go... the markets are on the point of going down! What to do in cases like these? Is it time to invest, sell everything or wait? The market downturns are always annoying, they come when you least expect it and they seem most obvious and unavoidable, with the benefit of hindsight. But the truth is that we all wish we had sold everything on the eve of a drop in prices to buy back later at lower prices. "Highlighting by the author" In this book you will learn a proven method which comes from years of study of the most successful traders, to whom they have put their training in the stock markets at my disposal, and especially how to deal with both the best times to invest and the worst. In this book nothing is left to chance and the main causes of failure in this business are also analyzed, and what to do when the markets go down and how to recognize a trend reversal from a correction. Like any business, also the choices made in managing your own and investing are dictated by our ideas and are therefore subject to the risk that those ideas are fallacious. The assumptions of economics is that man is a perfectly rational being who is able to accurately assess each situation and then calculate which action in that context ensures maximum profit with the lower risk. In actual fact, however, when it comes to investing, there is often asymmetric information, i.e. no information is available that is necessary for a truly considered choice. In this case, investment choices can be dictated by infatuation rather than a correct idea based on all the relevant information. In this book you will discover methods to avoid the most common mistakes. Here's just a little of what you'll discover inside: Breaking Down The Stock Market - Everything a Beginner Needs To Know All The Essential Market Terminology (and How To Remember It!) Whether you're an absolute beginner with zero programming skills or you already have knowledge of on-line income and you want to expand, then this book is for you. This will be the most exciting guide you have ever read, why? Because it will teach you exactly how to build your first ten income streams and then build the links that feed each other to increase your income. With each link being both a source of business and a referrer of business, the net effect of this Cross Collateralization is a Compounding Income and a business model where you only work on the business and never in it. This book has three important categories; 1.The theory- a behind the scenes look at online income 2.The method - a step-by-step how-to guide including the websites that'll need. 3.Actual ideas to help you along. To be truly passive, the COMPOUNDING INCOME method builds the business of on-line income without ongoing work. It's a methodology where you don't mind putting in the work to start the business as long as you earn money from that business on an ongoing basis. The business that generated that money then refers buyers and thereby income to other legs of your on-line model that also refer business back, thereby creating an effective compounding income with zero risk and in most cases zero outlay. This self-sustaining on-line business model has no need for programming skills, employees or ongoing money to be spent supporting it. What it does require is a desire to succeed, an ability to hold onto a vision and the dedication to put time and effort into learning new ways of doing things. This book is an absolute step by step guide but you will still need to put in the time to learn so our recommendation is that you read through this book in full before you even sit at your computer, that way you'll have a great understanding of the overall concept of on-line income from multiple streams. You'll understand how to manage the various systems and programs that we will use, you'll understand why we link our projects and you'll see from the outset that the time you are about to put in will truly pay you a sustainable, reliable, ongoing income. The first layer of this book is a step by step guide for both beginners who have never built an on-line income as well as those more experienced to build new income streams. This first stage deals with the foundation, the building blocks that on their own will generate a passive and ongoing income. The next stage is to leverage off these building blocks to create 'spin-off' income. This is income that is not directly related to that particular business but is complementary to that income 'building block'. The third stage is to link all of these building blocks together in the same way that the veins in your body link all your muscles together by supplying oxygen rich blood to create a system that works in harmony. Each building block has its primary function to create an income, its secondary function is then to refer business to other building blocks and receive business to supplement its own growth. Layne Lancefield and Staci Chamberlain are the authors of '5 passive income streams in five days' and '50 ways that people make extra money for additional income'. Built on the success of their previous books, 'Compounding Income' builds on the principle of online income that feeds and refers to your other online passive income streams to create a compounding (or in simple terms, a snowballing) effect that is multiplied by the power of the number of streams both feeding and being fed. If you have read '5 Income Streams in Five days', you'll understand Layne and Staci's devotion to the idea of Under Promise and Over Deliver where they taught many more than five income streams and Compounding Income will deliver many more than 10 income streams by the time you're finished. Each of these income streams can stand on their own but with links to each other they become powerful.

Hundreds of thousands of Internet marketers are fully focused on getting passive income. It is by far the most tempting form of income since it lets you earn money on a regular basis even if you are not active with work. Because of the hype that this concept generates, many people come up with their own dream interpretations of it and unfortunately some are missing the mark.

It is better to take a closer look at it as well as the things you should expect if you decide to pursue that goal. It is highly unlikely to achieve this passive income status overnight. Think of it like a rocket where you need to build a bunch of energy to launch it. But once it is in the air, you only have to do a fraction of the effort to keep things going. Creating an actual pathway is actually the time-consuming bit. If it was really a simple thing to do, everyone would be getting involved rather than sticking with tedious ways in earning money. Unfortunately, it is not that simple and you can't just create wealth out of thin air. Your only other alternative involves buying a possible passive income channel.
